Community Norms

We are excited to have you join our Ideation Station community. As members of the Ideation Station program, it is important that we respect the space, and each other. We (and your fellow members) encourage and expect you to take pride and ownership in your community by adhering to the following community norms:

1. The single biggest benefit of Ideation Station membership is access to your fellow members. We absolutely encourage Ideation Station members to make connections, collaborate, share ideas, provide advice and generally make cool stuff happen. We encourage Ideation Station members to buy goods and services from each other, but members may NOT directly solicit other members. It's just annoying and may result in cancellation of your membership.

2. The building is also a place of business for tenant companies, so please respect their privacy and professional needs.
3. We're excited to share this space with you, but we're not excited to share your mess. Please remember that Ideation Station is a shared space, which means others will be using it as well. It is important that you clean up after yourself, and that you take everything with you when you leave.
4. The refrigerator in the café area is free to anyone to use, but only take what is yours. You will be notified when a cleaning of the refrigerator is scheduled. The friendly Ideation Station staff reserves the right to throw anything in the refrigerator away, including breakthrough science experiments.
5. Please do not share your key card with anyone. Ideation Station key cards are not transferable and should not be given to anyone else for any reason.
6. Every person using Ideation Station must be a paid member. Exceptions: non-members can use Ideation Station if they are meeting Ideation Station members for business-related meetings or if the non-members have purchased a Day Pass. Members are absolutely accountable for the conduct of their guests.
7. We invite you to use the conference rooms as needed, but they must be reserved through the Room Wizard system or through the front office.
8. There are a lot of people in the building who need to use conference rooms, so please, don't monopolize them. And please clean up after using a room. If you move furniture, put it back to the original format when you are finished.
9. Please be mindful of others when using a cell phone, and keep it on vibrate so that no one has to repeatedly listen to your awesome ring tone.
10. We welcome your feedback! As a Ideation Station community, we encourage two-way communication between our members and our staff. If you have ideas or suggestions, please feel free to share them with us.

I agree to these Ideation Station Community Norms and to take pride and ownership in the Ideation Station space.
